

Court Appoints Charleston Trustee of TI Acquisition Trust

Tuesday, September 07, 2010

Conway MacKenzie's Greg Charleston, senior managing director, has been appointed trustee of TI Acquisition LLC Claims and Creditor Trust. Judge Mary Grace Diehl of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court's Northern District of Georgia Rome Division approved Charleston's appointment.

His role as trustee will be to maximize the value of recovery of the remaining assets of the bankruptcy estate of TI Acquisition, LLC, formerly a Dalton, GA-based carpet company. Charleston often acts as a fiduciary for trusts, bankruptcy estates and operating companies to best maximize value for creditors and other stakeholders.

Charleston is senior managing director of Conway MacKenzie and leads the firm's Atlanta office. He draws more than 19 years of experience in turnaround consulting, financial crisis management, mergers and acquisitions, and business valuation. He is a Certified Turnaround Professional, Certified Public Accountant and a Chartered Financial analyst.

Before joining Conway MacKenzie, he was vice president of finance with, Thomson Gale, a major publishing firm. Prior to that, he was with Ernst & Young where he provided consulting services in the areas of corporate restructuring and reorganization, mergers and acquisitions, and business and asset valuation.

Charleston is the secretary and serves on the board of directors of the Atlanta Turnaround Management Association and is also a member of the Atlanta Metro Chamber of Commerce. He is also a member of the American Bankruptcy Institute, American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and the CFA Institute.

He has a Bachelor of Business Administration and Master of Business Administration from the University of Michigan.

Conway MacKenzie Inc. is an international consulting firm specializing in turnaround and crisis management, manufacturing operations consulting, litigation support services, and investment banking services.